'TIS THE SEASON!

As the Holiday Season comes upon us, so do unique times.

Very eager to propel into the finish line, our students stand ready to conquer the race. The exam test dates are officially scheduled post the tumultuous season of the global pandemic, and we continue to remain steadfast and keep our eyes on the goal. We are certain, 2021 shall start with a new set of Au-RN's fresh from the House of NETA!

IT'S UNI
BREAK!

by S.D. Waterhaus

The scent of cinnamon and aroma of pecan pies fill the streets and wrap the city in gleeful cheer that can only be one thing -

It is Christmas season.

As we pack our bags and roll our canvasses back into our packs, we take the much needed breath to reset, pause, take a break - and prepare for OBA.

You heard this right; and I know deep inside the humdrum of your merry heart, you agree with us. This brief period of relief from the tasks that used to take time off your hands now come neatly wrapped and tied with a golden bow for you to unravel - you have all the days and nights you need to finally get to the state of readiness that gives you the fitting courage to declare a dream that now rings with truth:

"I am ready to take my OBA."

This is one gift that need not wait for Christmas Eve, or be on your North Pole list. It is something you conceive, create, believe in and commit to - A gift from you, to you.

On the gift tag it proudly says:

*I am an Australian
Registered Nurse.*”

Let this season be the season. Get the red sparkling pouch that has your name on it. Claim the gift that is meant to be yours.

All I want for Christmas
and the rest of our shared years

KAREN'S LIST

Karen Decks The Halls | A Peer Feature Article

As Santa keeps a Naughty and Nice List, I also have our a shortened cut of all the enriching presents you get from NETA, even beyond the Holidays!

Students may expect..

- A well-structured course format delivered with a study plan that is simple to follow;
- Unlimited Learner's Portal Access that contains integrated online resources supplemented with mandatory readings and pre-recorded videos, available anytime and anywhere;
- A comprehensive question bank with a total of 15,000 questions from online resources and e-books where students can practice test-taking proficiencies for;
- An all-inclusive 8-week Preparation Course for NCLEX that delivers coaching sessions with a licensed and seasoned educator via live teleconference;
- Weekly mock tests for NCLEX;
- Evaluation of learning and feedback sessions in a personalized sit-down between students and educators;
- Highly qualified and experienced Australian RN Educators

A much shorter but equally important list I have also tucked in the learner's chimney stockings, tells of what I expect from our students:

- Commitment
- Time Management
- Motivation
- Discipline to Study

We may be brief with words, but never with intent. As we journey on through the holidays, I wish you merry days and fruitful study times ahead!

NCLEX COMES TO TOWN

How to effectively get ready for the exams.

From the words of our newly registered AU-RN's and the fruit of collaborative commitment with our seasoned NETA educators and coaches, here are tips you may find helpful...

- Read all resources provided by NETA
- Constantly engage with the practice questions and feedback sessions
- Respond to follow-throughs of educators
- Utilize all resources NETA provides
- Be mentally present during mock exams.
- Relax. You got this.

"My journey to NCLEX in a medical term was like an ECG wave.."

Jyoti Gyurung
NCLEX Passer,
 NETA Student

...because I succeed in my second attempt. For that I joined NETA. I read resources provided by NETA and practice questions. I would suggest practicing much more questions and focus on rationale and quality rather than quantities. The helping hand to succeed which I can proudly say is NETA because I found their content very much fruitful and the best part is, they keep on upgrading their content in relation to NCSBN Board. They keep you constantly motivated even you get failure. They never leave their hand instead they push you much more towards achieving your success which did happen to me as well. And I did not find such institute that keeps on follow up with you, regarding your studies progresses, achievement and does provide feedback. Thus, heartfelt thanks to NETA team and especial thanks to Karissa and Karen for being such a wonderful co-ordinator and tutor.

Sristi Pyakurel
NCLEX Passer,
 1st Attempt

"When I was taking the exam, I felt like all my teachers were there sitting beside me, telling me how to deal with the questions like how we would during our final coaching.

I was literally going through every word. Learn by heart and reflect on the day, use the NETA framework..I would hear these reminders constantly play in my head, and always when I need them.

It is truly worth it..all the hours shared with our educators have truly paid off. As always, theoretical knowledge is most important. In my case around 15 % of the questions were purely theoretical, and everything else I was able to confidently comprehend with analytics based on the NETA framework.

To all you future test-takers, remember these..Be calm. Imagine this as just another mock test. Relax. You got this.

MESSAGE FROM THE NETA TEAM

2020's Year-End Thoughts for 2021's New Beginning

Thank you to all students, staff, and educators for making last month successful.

We are grateful.

We want to ensure you, our endeared students, that we will leave no stones unturned to help you successfully pass the examination and urge you to, likewise, do the same. (i.e. to commit time to learn and follow our educator's advice and use NETA tools to the fullest.

We believe this way, we can reach our common goal: Australian Registration..

SOMETHING FOR YOU.

In this season of giving, NETA gives away 100 AUD for all students enrolling in the month of December.*

Learning has never been this rewarding.

Applicable for intake dates: December 2020 and January 2021. *Terms and Conditions Apply. For more info, visit our web and social media pages..

WHAT'S NEW

PHARMA COLOGY MADE EASY

It is the season to be jolly, for another good tool has been added to our lists of tools to help our students pass NCLEX.

This month we are proudly launching,

NCLEX/NETA
PHARMACOLOGY TOOL.

which will help students get: a quick reference guide of common medications, obtain a summary of medication calculations, read from a list of anecdotes, and learn the nursing interventions for each medication, among others.

This tool has been added to the student portal in addition to the multitude of learning aids and references that we already currently have:

NETA NCLEX Tools:
Must Knows
NETA NCLEX Tools:
Signs and Symptoms
NETA NCLEX Tools:
Assessments

But wait! There's more..

We are adding more next month, so watch out for the newest addition of focal learning materials for:

NETA NCLEX Tools:
Maternity Child Health.

With NETA, you will always be provided for. Keep your focus, and we'll take care of the rest for you.
